WELCOME TO RESOURCE PEOPLE

Resource People is the official magazine of Australia's national resource industry employer group, Australian Resources and Energy Group AMMA. AMMA has a widespread national presence and the most specialised resource industry knowledge in Australia, with its members directly and indirectly employing more than half a million working Australians. Directly mailed to more than 5000 professionals, managers and executives involved in Australia's prosperous mining, oil and gas, and allied and servicing sectors, Resource People has become a trusted source and 'must-read' publication for those who want to stay informed.

Covering the human stories behind Australia's fastest growing industry, Resource People combines feature articles and insightful profiles with the latest on recruitment, training and development, workplace relations, migration, leadership and all other workforce-related topics.

With its contemporary design and high-quality editorial content, Resource People is the go-to source for those who want to stay informed of changes within this dynamic industry.

Jaedon has been working with Resource People. We find the magazine a great way of showcasing our new innovations and designs to industry leaders. It is our way of getting information to the general mining community with relevance and timely updates on industry matters. Resource People puts Jaedon in front of the industry leaders for mining across Australia.
